Dr. MOK Wai-kuen, Nicola

PhD, MPhtyStud(ManipPhty), PgDHealthCare(PT), ProfDipPT

Assistant Professor of TWC. Dr Mok is a musculoskeletal physiotherapy practitioner and researcher with extensive clinical, teaching and research experience. Apart from local professional trainings, Dr Mok gained both clinical specialty and research training in Australia. She also taught in the undergraduate and post-graduate physiotherapy programmes at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University for over 15 years.

Dr Mok's clinical expertise has been well recognised by the Hong Kong Olympics and Paralympics Committee; she was invited to serve the Hong Kong Delegation for various international games; such as the Paralympics Games, Para Asian Games, Asian Games, and Asian Youth Games. In addition, she was also appointed by the Beijing Organising Committee for the XXIX Olympiad as the Physiotherapy-in-charge at the Tsingdao sailing venue for the 2008 Beijing Paralympic Games. Professionally, Dr Mok also contributes her expertise to her professional bodies. She has been the elected Chair for the Manipulative Physiotherapy Specialty Group, Hong Kong Physiotherapy Association and the Delegate of Hong Kong for the International Federation of Manipulative Physical Therapists since 2013.

Dr. LEE Wai Chun, Arthur

PhD, MSc Sports Physio, BSc Physio, Dip Acupuncture, RP (HK)

Graduated as physiotherapist from The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU) in 2000, Dr Arthur Lee had worked in local public hospitals, practising in all areas of physiotherapy. Having a huge interest in sports rehabilitation, Dr Lee attained his Master's Degree in Sports Physiotherapy in 2005 and joined the Sports Medicine Centre of Hong Kong Sports Institute in the same year. During his years at the Hong Kong Sports Institute, Dr Lee gained valuable experience in treating both acute and chronic sports injuries. Dr Lee's professional qualifications and experience in sports rehabilitation has allowed him to be a clinical educator of physiotherapy students at PolyU, and a part-time postgraduate program lecturer at The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK). Dr Lee has extensive experience in treating elite athletes and is therefore appointed Hong Kong Medical Team Delegate for major games and international events such as Beijing Olympic 2008 and Incheon Asian Games 2014.
